

MBL - ASU History of Biology Seminar
2025: Is Organicism a Useful Concept

Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Massachusetts
May 15th-20th, 2025
Travel Days: May 14th & May 21st

APPLICATION

DEADLINE: January 15, 2025 by 5pm MST

First Name: _____ Last Name: _____

Address: _____

Telephone: _____ E-mail: _____

Current Institutional Affiliation: _____

Discipline and/or Department: _____

Current Status: Graduate Student Postdoctoral Scholar Jr Faculty Other: _____

Emergency Contact Name: _____ Contact Telephone: _____

Address: _____

Other Notes (i.e., accessibility, dietary, etc...): _____

Completed Application Packet Includes: 1) Completed Application Form 2) One page description of your research interests and experiences. Indicate how your research relates to this workshop topic 3) One letter of support from advisor or mentor emailed directly to Kris Johnson by the January 15, 2025 deadline.

Expenses: If accepted to participate in this seminar the following expenses will be funded and paid directly to the Marine Biological Laboratory: the MBL Registration, ID fee, Housing, and Meal expenses. Airfare and ground transportation will be reimbursed after the seminar. All other expenses will be your responsibility.

Funding Note: Please let us know if you have any institutional funding that would support your own travel and/or housing expenses. Not required but a note as any self-funding would assist funding additional students.

Email with the completed HOB application packet to Kris Johnson at kris.l.johnson@asu.edu by January 15th, 2025.

*The application process is organized by the Center for Biology and Society at Arizona State University.
Completed application packets will be reviewed by the History of Biology Seminar Directors and Organizers.*