

Center for Biology + Society

Conversation Series

Join us for a series of conversations at the intersection of biology and society.

Life Science ETHICS

Organizing for Biodiversity Conservation in the Age of Extinction

Life Sciences C Wing, Rm 202
Lunch: 11:30 a.m. - noon Program: noon - 1 p.m.

Contacts

Karin Ellison
Life Science Ethics Director
karin.ellison@asu.edu

Michelle Sullivan Govani
Graduate Assistant
mksulli3@asu.edu

Jan. 30 Organizing concepts in biodiversity conservation

Gregory Kaebnick, The Hastings Center

with Leah Gerber and Elliott Millinor, ASU School of Life Sciences

Feb. 20 Organizing conservation professionals

Jorge Ramos, Conservation International

with Sharon Hall and Michelle Sullivan Govani, ASU School of Life Sciences

March 27 Organizing stakeholders for conservation

Michael Schoon, ASU School of Sustainability

with Beckett Sterner and Theresa Lorenzo, ASU School of Life Sciences

April 10 Organizing institutions, protecting biodiversity

Jonathan Losos, Washington University in St. Louis with Ben Minter and Ryan Davila, ASU School of Life Sciences Co-sponsored by the Arizona Zoological Society Endowed Chair

RSVP for lunch headcount

Seating is limited

cbs.asu.edu/conversation-series-rsvp

ASU School of Life Sciences
Arizona State University